PARENTING IS A TEAM SPORT

Our oldest son and his wife were expecting their second child. A father of several children told Josh that having one child was a man on man defense but when more arrive parenting becomes a zone defense!

Parenting is a team sport! Kids are the players and mom and dad are the coach because two become one coach in parenting. Being united in the family unit is the foundation that builds healthy children.

A few tips:

- Tell your kids you are ONE. You and your mate are on the same team.
- If you have a question concerning your children, adopt a mantra, "Mom and Dad need to talk about it." Stand together in your decision.
- Disagree about child-related things in private.
- Show affection in front of the kids.
- Relish inside jokes. This principle keeps parents on each other's team! Kids aren't allowed!
- When in doubt, defer to dad. He is the ultimate authority and gives mom the backup just as God is the ultimate authority in all our lives.
